

For 4th through 7th Religion - Mrs. Rubich

- I. I will continue to use Google Classroom for my assignments and daily work. The students have been doing a great job with turning in their work through the google form. When we return from Spring Break we will continue with our chapters in the Religion Book. I also plan on giving a daily schedule on Sundays to the parents and students. On Sundays parents will receive an email and for students it will be posted on google classroom as to what we will be doing each day that week. For example what pages we will be working on each day or an idea of what the activity will be. If I give an open book assessment I will not be providing notes on google classroom. If I give a closed book assessment I will post notes for the chapters on google classroom - where students will be able to review the notes each day. The day I assign the assessment I will remove the notes. I will post the notes back on google classroom when all assessments are graded and returned to the students so they can look it over.
- II. If I set up a Zoom Meeting with the students I expect the students to be sitting at a table with their Religion Book and notebook. I want all students to be looking in the camera and participating. I will be giving a two-day notice to parents and students when the Zoom Session will take place (day and time).
- III. For grading - I will be posting their grades for their assignments in PowerSchool and on google classroom as well. If students are missing work I will be emailing them to let them know what they are missing.
- IV. I will be available for help through email or google classroom Monday through Thursday 9:00am-3:00pm and Fridays 9:00am -12:00pm. If a student emails me after 3:00pm Monday through Thursday I will respond to their email the next morning.
